

Alice Zhong is a Senior Facilitator with IWNC China. Alice is from Taiwan and she is based in Shanghai.

Alice is a very experienced facilitator and trainer in team and leadership effectiveness for IWNC. She also has many years experience delivering management skills, teambuilding, and motivation programs.

Alice has a proven skill set in project management, leadership and change management acquired through 20 years of management experience in government service, public policy promotion, hospital process re-engineering, training and consulting. She has worked for numerous major multinational corporations in diverse industries and locations, including McDonald's in Taiwan, Carrefour in Singapore, and Aurora in China. She also worked for China Productivity Center in Taiwan as a business consultant and as an internal reengineering executive for Singapore General Hospital in Singapore.

Alice Zhong graduated from University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in the USA with a Masters in Business Administration. She speaks both Chinese and English.

Achievements

Certified professional human resources manager (186 hour training in Taiwan)

Manager of incubation project to foster entrepreneurs and commercialize new technologies from 57 universities

Established corporate training system and conducted new employee training, manager training and train the trainer training for 500 employee

Experience

Broad-based corporate training experience working in China, Taiwan and Singapore
MBA from University of Illinois